

THE BRILLIANT NEW

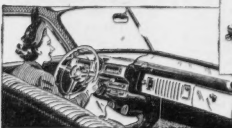

DE SOTO

Styled
TO STAY
Beautiful

DISTINCTIVE FROM ANY ANGLE

From the sparkling new grille to the high-set tail light, which houses heater and emergency back-up light, the DeSoto represents true automobile beauty. Its graceful lines and pleasing chrome combine with the luxurious interior and outstanding performance to make it truly the distinctive car of the year.

A wide view of the road through the higher, wider wheel shield and rear window makes city driving... parking easier and safer. The new, low-slung hood... average 44% greater than in former models for greater driving safety. Deflecter seats cover the whole windshield.

You relax on dual-high seats in the luxuriously upholstered, roomy interior of the year DeSoto. Two-tone leather trim is available in tan or blue shades to blend with the 8 distinctive body colors. Front and rear seats are covered with sponge rubber over full luxury springs for extra comfort.

DeSoto

WITH "TIP-TOE" SHIFTING FOR EFFORTLESS DRIVING

HERE is the brilliant new DeSoto, featuring true automobile design — to give you more comfort, more safety, more performance — and styled to stay beautiful.

Passengers in this striking new DeSoto will find it bigger, wider, roomier, more comfortable — yet it is slightly shorter from bumper to bumper for easier city driving and parking. The 125½ inch wheelbase is 4 inches longer to further improve the restful "between-the-axles" ride. Seats have been made wider — but overall car width has not been increased. Wide, high doors let you get in and out with ease.

Drivers will enjoy DeSoto's time-tested and improved "Tip-Toe" gear shift... the transmission that lets you drive all day without changing gears. With "Tip-Toe" shift you still have a clutch, so you retain complete control of the car at all times for greater safety.

From the smallest detail of the luxurious new interior... to the still better "Tip-Toe" shift... every improvement has been planned to increase the high standards set by previous DeSoto models.

See this fine new DeSoto at your Dodge-DeSoto dealer's showroom. He will be happy to show you, and demonstrate, the many new and tested features which make DeSoto the distinctive car of the year.

Unions Replacing Clergy in Society

Sociologist Reports Situation In Canada's Industrial Cities

TORONTO, March 12.—(CP)—A Canadian sociologist reported yesterday that Windsor, Ont., is in the middle of a social upheaval in which trade unions are taking over the traditional influence exercised by church and business groups.

TWO-YEAR STUDY

The report was made by Professor C. W. H. Hart, former head of the University of Toronto sociology department, after a two-year study of the highly-industrialized city. Now a professor of sociology at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.

He suggested his findings might also apply to such industrialized Ontario cities as Ottawa, Brantford and St. Catharines.

He said the unions in Windsor had become the most powerful, social and moral authority in the community.

"People in trouble, in a town like Windsor, used to go to a clergyman or a local politician or to a local charitable body—now they go to the union," he writes in a 28-page article in the current issue of the Canadian Journal of Political Science and Economics.

"Such people used to repay their benefactors by such means as voting as the clergyman or politician or charitable person wished . . . Now they vote as the union leader wishes."

Civic Leaders In Agreement

WINDSOR, Ont., March 11.—(CP)—A report by Prof. C. W. Hart, Canadian sociologist, that labor unions are replacing the church and other civic influences as leaders of civic thought last night aroused considerable comment.

Rev. E. C. Garvey, head of the philosophy department of Assiniboia College, said Prof. Hart would have been more accurate if he had said that the workers have gone along with the Roman Catholic church. "The church has been advocating the formation of strong unions ever since the encyclical of Leo 13 in 1891," he commented.

A class of various professions showed most civic leaders were agreed with Prof. Hart that labor unions are a potent force in the community.

Peek Into Indian Camp Teaches Many Things

Dear Tawasi:
Do you know how Indian children were taught? Little Chief has been telling me and it does make our schoolrooms sound just a bit dull.

Let's pretend we can peek inside an Indian camp and see what those boys and girls really learn. In the first place, the wise old Indians always told them how to live. You know, there is a good way and a bad way of living. Being a kind and willing helper is one, and you all know what the other is. If a person didn't learn the right way, he would have had just as much trouble as I. Least of all an Indian.

The second most important thing was politeness. A child who yelled for things or cried for no good reason may have been doused with cold water or simply ignored until he learned good manners.

Everything from keeping house to chopping wood was made into a game which the young ones loved to play.

While little girls stayed in the wigwams and were taught how to cook, weave baskets and mold pottery, the boys were sent to hunt and were outside making bows and arrows, canoeing, skinning animals and learning exciting things about hunting.

Many tribes had groups like our Boy Scouts who tried to outmatch each other in anything they did. Often they battled with soft-tipped arrows to see who made the best warriors, but only boys who knew how to use weapons were allowed to have them.

So all you Tawasis take a tip from the Indians and make sure you don't let anyone else make you get the idea to play with bows and arrows. Since our club got its name from the Indian language, we must try to obey their rules, and make the tribe proud of us.

Sincerely,
E. Cleaver Page

British Columbia Opens Rheumatic Disease Fight

Beulah Pastor Speaks Sunday

In preparation for more fervent and widespread worship of the risen Christ at the Easter season, Pastor H. J. McVey will speak on Sunday in Beulah Tabernacle on the sequel theme, "Growing in Grace" and "Entering into Grace."

Pastor McVey's morning message will present the five steps in the practical outworking of true Christianity in individual experience.

His evening message will stress the fivefold presentation of God's grace for individual acceptance as foreshadowed in the five Levitical offerings.

Three-Way Backing

The program to embrace the province's estimated 45,000 patients has three-way support with backing from the recently incorporated Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Association, the B.C. Medical Association, and provincial and federal governments.

Two-Storey Jump

BULL. Que., March 12.—(CP)—Two women jumped from a second-storey window to safety early yesterday when a $20,000 fire swept through an apartment building at 187 Main street, opposite Hall Court House.

STARTS IN VANCOUVER

The pilot system already is operating in Vancouver, Mr. Pearson said. First courses started for physio-therapists last month at Vancouver's general hospital and an intensive educational program will be undertaken by the medical association's advisory committee.

He described the plan as not being able to reach all directly but serving as a "breath of hope to many."

The plan is to attend the centers or visit their own physicians. Mobile and specially-trained units are being organized for this purpose, Mr. Pearson said.

The program to embrace the province's estimated 45,000 patients has three-way support with backing from the recently incorporated Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Association, the B.C. Medical Association, and provincial and federal governments.

Physio-therapists will be employed full-time by the B.C. division of the Chartered Physical Therapists Association and will work under direction of the pilot centers.

"I venture to say," said Mr. Pearson, "that within a few years we shall see in this province, as a direct result of this central plan, an extended program which will

Wrestler ON SPORT

By STAN MOHR, Sports Editor

Crucial? What Else?

Radios will take quite a beating tonight, what with thousands of the Flyer faithful doing their level best to keep ear to the doings in Calgary's Victoria Arena.

No need to point up tonight's contest as 'crucial.' As a matter of fact that much overworked descriptive will pretty well apply to the balance of the games in this series, considering the situation created by the fact that Flyers and Stampeder each have a victory to their credit.

Frank Currie's big job will be to bring his Allan cup champions to a high pitch of winning-enthusiasm where his third clash is concerned.

So far in the series the Currie-men have carried on—for the most part—like a group of individuals who didn't much care whether school kept or not.

One of the club's greatest assets last spring—possibly its greatest—was an all-embracing will-to-win. There is no substitute for this urge.

Maybe Vitamin Pills Would Help

Apart from the need to reinforce his team with a big yen to go out there and shoot that Cowboy gang full of holes, Currie somehow must get far more hockey out of his Anderson-Cloveshok-Merlik line than has been the case to this point.

Between them this formerly high-scoring trio has yet to account for a single point in two games. This might not be serious in mid-season, but in a relatively brief test of strength, as a five game series must be considered, it easily can be fatal.

Cloveshok, particularly, has been a disappointment. If 'Handy Andy' was entitled to a slump before he should have indulged himself over the last three weeks of the regular schedule. It was pretty obvious by that time Flyers weren't going to be better—nor worse—than second place finishers.

Right now the Cloveshok silence compares to the clean-up hitter on a ball club or the triple-threat man of a grid machine going sour just when it hurts most.

Of course there are those inclined to put the finger on euphoric Anderson, by way of explaining Cloveshok's magnificent silence. These observers say the young pivot isn't putting that puck on his winger's stick often enough.

Merluk Has Fallen Off

As for Merluk, a study of the game-by-game statistics will show clearly that his goal production has been way down with the weather reports for weeks.

He ain't the sniper he was by a country mile. Still, no one better likes to put that puck in behind a netminder than the boy from the Coal Branch and he might just bounce back in time to ease the current tension. It must be admitted that injuries have particularly played hot with Merluk.

So it adds up to this: A smashing return to form of the line that played almost a dominant role as Flyers sealed amateur hockey's Top 'O' of the Mark last year easily could mean the finish of the Stampeder.

And the end could come right in Victoria arena Monday night, in four games.

Falling a win by Flyers tonight it might be that Jim Paul and his Exhibition association mates will be reaching for the cheque book. Because several times in the past, in Tuley Mule's regime, as well as since Frank Currie took charge, the team-backers have had recourse to a sudden bonus arrangement as a spur to greater effort.

And the Flyers, even as you and I, frequently have fought out of tough spots because of that smell of extra sugar in their nostrils.

BOOMER Bud MacPherson, hefty Flyer defenceman, will likely see action as the Currie-men take on Stampeder in the third game of the Calgary-Edmonton WCHL semi-final series in Cowtown tonight. He came out of the Thursday battle, as the Cowboys squared the series at one game each, with minor injuries.

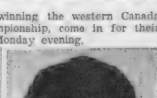

For at 200 pounds, coach Jim Graham's crew is scheduled to meet the southern winners. In the first game of a best-of-three series.

Mercurys' opponent Monday will either be Calgary or Medicine Hat, scheduled to complete their playoffs, this afternoon in Cowtown. Calgary leads this two-game total goal round 2-1.

Second game of the Alberta series will be played in Calgary on Tuesday evening. Date and site for the win-up are yet to be decided.

Alberta champions will then invade B.C., while Saskatchewan takes on Manitoba. Victoria will play for the western title in B.C.

Don Stanley, Mercury star who went overseas to bolster Galtway Wolves, is scheduled to arrive in town Sunday. Whether he will play in the series or not is still unknown.

DON STANLEY ... Back Sunday.

Ducks Unlimited Meets at Reno

NEW YORK, March 12.—(AP)—Ducks Unlimited, an organization of sportsmen conservationists, will hold their annual meeting at Reno, Nev., late this month. It was announced yesterday.

The meeting of Ducks Unlimited will be March 25 and 26. The meeting of the parent group, Ducks Unlimited was formed in 1927 and has collected more than $2,000,000 which is spent through the Canadian affiliate. The Canadian group was organized to do the field work to improve the breeding grounds for ducks on the prairies.

ROOKIE TONGUE-LASHED

YUHO BEACHE, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn Dodger second baseman, gave warning yesterday to National league opponents that he'll "dash it out" this year.

"They'd better be rough on me this year because I'm sure going to be rough on them," he said after a flare-up in an intra-squad game Thursday with rookie pitcher Chris Van Cuyk.

The former Montreal Royals star, first Negro ever to play in the major leagues, has been an uncompromising but hard-playing member of the Dodgers for two seasons.

The Van Cuyk incident, although nothing more than a brief flare-up, indicated a change in Jackie's temperament.

Early in the game he had boot-ed a ground ball behind pitcher Rex Barney, and the opponent bench started "ridin' Robinson." He answered back, not only from his position but from the bench later.

In the late innings Robinson slashed a line single off the delivery of Van Cuyk after telling the pitcher "You'll be a 20-year man in class C ball."

The next time Jackie came to bat, the first pitch from the 220-pound Van Cuyk—a 116-gallon winner with first World War, 1918, year—brushed him back from the plate. It was a fast ball around the levers. The next pitch was a fast one around the knees, and Jackie had to dance away.

Infuriated, Jackie swung at the next ball and popped up to the catcher.

Flyers Rarin' to Go Against Stampeder

Coach Currie Enthusiastic About Edmonton's Chances

"Bedded down for the night and rarin' to go," was the word from Frank Currie, Flyer coach just before midnight last night. Contacted by phone at Calgary's York hotel, Flyer headquarters in the southern city, Currie appeared enthusiastic about his team's chances in tonight's third game of the Edmonton-Calgary WCHL semi-final series.

"The... we didn't want to even to the extent of a shot," he said.

BUSMAN'S HOLIDAY

As a matter of fact most members of the team enjoyed a "busman's holiday" by taking in the Calgary-Stampeders game in Victoria Arena last night. "A very good game," was the Currie comment.

It was indicated that both Andy Cloveshok and Bud MacPherson would see action against Stampeder in the third game. Both came out at Thursday's contest.

At the arena were, won by the Cowboys 3-2 as they squared the series, tonight's game.

Cloveshok suffered a twist-out about the right eye, while one of MacPherson's ankles was badly bruised.

FLASH-BUZZ CASE

The "Infinite Case" of the Flash Buzz, an Thursday-afternoon action photograph has come to know, is likely to be continued in Calgary tonight.

When questioned about the matter at the end of the Thursday game Currie expressed total ignorance as to who might have taken the picture. He well have stated flatly that if it developed that Merluk, Calgary coach, was behind the request "I'll see that the same situation prevails in Calgary."

Actually this hardly can be considered as a solution to the matter. It is likely that several hundred Edmontonians will be in the crowd at Victoria Arena tonight. In other words, Flyers will lack for support.

Fourth game of the series also is scheduled for Calgary Monday night.

Ball School Goes To South Side Kids

Some of young baseball enthusiasts took to the Recreation commission school held last night at the King Edward school.

Doug Daryah and Bob (Luby) Heller, Big Four league hurlers, gave pleasing instruction. While Iles Sama showed the youngsters the fundamentals of the game.

Outsiders and infielders also came in for instructions. Cecil "Cag" and Harry J. took the field, with 15 minutes of strenuous physical jerks.

NEW YORK, March 12.—(AP)—Steve Bellinger, hard-bitting Bronx minor league contender, stopped J. T. Ross, Janky Sam Jose, Calif. youngster in 115 of the fifth round of the featured 10-rounder in Madison Square Garden last night. Jack weighed 175 lbs.

British Producers Face Hard Task

Battle With Costs Is Hard One For Picture Magnates

By Norman Cribbens

LONDON, March 12.—(CP)—Facing for front-page space with the cold war and budget estimates is the British movie industry, fighting a battle with costs as realistic as any it puts on the screen.

Every day some new item of gloom is translated into headlines: wages cut, studios closed, a year in recession, no government is likely to allow it to suffer extinction.

Nevertheless, movie magnates do not believe the industry is doomed. They declare that, as it yields nearly £400,000,000 ($600,000,000) a year in revenue, no government is likely to allow it to suffer extinction.

Furthermore, they point out, the continued existence of the British movie industry now has become a matter of national pride, and films like "Henry," "Hamlet" and "Great Expectations" have brought artistic prestige to Britain which cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents.

Extravagant and high taxation are blamed for the losses, which have made city financiers reluctant to advance money for new productions. One example is the British film "My Brother Sam," which cost £100,000 to produce and took in £100,000 at the box office.

The producers' explanation is that of the money earned the government took £100,000 in taxes, the exhibitors £250,000 and the distributors £370,000, making a total expenditure including production costs of £750,000.

Changes suggested: Two drastic changes have been suggested for putting the British industry on a paying basis: a larger percentage of the net-office returns must reach the producer, and second, pictures must be made at less cost.

Such pressure is being exerted upon Harold Willson, president of the Board of Trade, to have the government return part of its takings so that it can be given back into production.

Canadian Big Stamp Buyer

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 12.—(CP)—Kasimir Birkoff of Miami yesterday continued to dominate bidding for stamps sent here as contraband in the war as the Bermuda prize court auction went through its second day. The Windsor mail order stamp dealer made the largest single bid of the day—$2,400 for a large box containing hundreds of thousands of stamps.

Today's sale netted more than $200,000. Officially expressed prices are at the large number of United States and Canadian dollars brought into the country.

Birkoff told reporters he came here with a draft for $400,000 (Canadian) and has already spent $200,000. He said that even before the auction opened he had guaranteed half of stamps he might buy.

Other dealers said prices were "wild" over catalogue figures at New York. More than 1,000,000 stamps were sold today in 2,500 lots.

Most of the stamps came from Germany and axis-occupied Europe and parts of Africa. They were seized in the early years of the war by Bermuda customs officials as contraband.

Drew Attacks CBC Policies

OTTAWA, March 12.—(CP)—Opposition leader George Drew yesterday described as "a dog in the manger" attitude the policy of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation toward television.

"If there is any one thing in which private enterprise should be allowed to carry on, it is television in Canada," Mr. Drew told his press conference.

His argument was that public money collected by the CBC should be used to develop the industry in a comparatively small area of the country.

Estimates Coming Down On Monday

OTTAWA, March 12.—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said last night that the latest will bring down the estimates of expenditures for the 1940-41 fiscal year on Sunday.

BRIDE BUYS PERMIT BUT MARRIAGE NULL

MONTREAL, March 22.—(CP)—The marriage of a 19-year-old youth, whose bride paid for the $500 for a license, was annulled today because the groom is a minor and lacked parental consent.

NORTHLAND YOUNGUN, four-year-old Oohzeluk lives a happy little life with her Eskimo Mom and Pop in a tiny igloo in Coppermine, Northwest Territories. It's far from the year round at this far-flung post on the Arctic Ocean . . . no scurrying about in skimpy sunsuits for the little people of the frozen north.

WOMEN of TODAY

Dolores Kimball
Editor

ESKIMO FAMILIES LOVE THEIR KINDLY NURSE

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE probably never thought one of her nurses would plunge into the heart of the northland with white cap starched and thermometer poised. But Miss Florence Nightingale of Montreal has taken her NIN degree, her experience, nursing skill and kind heart to Coppermine where she looks to the welfare of people like young Baby Teresa.

Northland women prefer their homes in far-away places to the hectic pace of city-living in present-day times

Women of today love their comforts, their conveniences, their electric washing-machines, telephones, mixmasters, automatic ironers, vacuum cleaners.

Women of today love to frolic about in fashion's favorite finery, delicately and firmly ignoring any hardships pioneer women of another day might have known.

But not so women of the far northland.

At the tiny post of Coppermine at the very fringe of Canada's northern shore . . . women live a far different existence. There are 18 white people living there, four of them women. The only happy thing about this is they always have a bridge foursome for the long winter afternoons.

In spite of the lack of modern homemaking conveniences

these four women have learned to love the northland. They say the total disrespect for time is such a pleasant and relaxing change from life in busy metropolitan cities . . . and even out country towns and villages.

There is not the eternal hustle and bustle of crowds to contend with . . . no daily hargain-hunting . . . no worry about who wore the prettiest frock to the church tea . . . no problems of juvenile delinquency . . . or any of the modern hiranques city dwellers must face.

Women of the north love the crispness of the frosty air, the complete detachment from petty too-many-people-together problems.

They wouldn't trade their home for a Hollywood mansion.

MANNING FAMILY LOVE THEIR ARCTIC HOME

FASHION FAVORITES FOR '49 are fur, and it's a good thing, laughs Mrs. Leo Manning. She wears fur the year round and wears her sunsuit than for glamour. Mrs. Manning is with the Manning family and her husband, Leo, in their Arctic home. Mrs. Manning, left and daughter show their parents' enthusiasm for life in the far north.

ESKIMO FAMILIES GATHER FOR SUNDAY WORSHIP SERVICE

MISSION FATHERS, both Anglican and Roman Catholic, speak of the devoutness of the Coppermine Eskimos, particularly the younger generations. They gather for spiritual comfort and the warm friendliness of the men of God . . . men, women and children. "Though still primitive, Eskimos of this region have been led easily into the religious ways of the white men and take kindly to culture offered by the Church. Even infants like this one on her mother's knee know and love the blessed wilderness.

Another new custom DODGE

THE FINEST IN 35 YEARS

STILL THE LOWEST PRICED CAR WITH FLUID DRIVE

BALANCED DESIGN for lasting beauty . . . GREATER COMFORT AND SAFETY . . . MORE HEAD, LEG AND ELBOW ROOM . . . Traditional Dodge PERFORMANCE with an even smoother RIDE—that's what you'll enjoy in the new Custom Dodge. There's everything you expect in a line automobile—at no sacrifice of performance or utility.

This new Custom Dodge—the lowest-priced car with Fluid Drive—has chair-high seats, and higher, wider windshields that let you see over the hood—give a wide view of the road. Its big doors enable you to get in and out with ease—with your hat on. There's plenty of head and leg room, front and rear. Seats are wider, yet the New Custom Dodge will fit into your garage. Wheelbases are 4 inches longer to give an even better ride—but the overall length of this new car is no greater. Front and rear fenders are beautifully streamlined—and they can be repaired or replaced without major expense.

Dodge engineers planned this new Custom Dodge "from the inside out". They engineered and built it with traditional Dodge thoroughness. It combines size, style and easy riding with great power and amazing performance. It is truly a luxury car—yet it remains "the lowest-priced car with Fluid Drive".

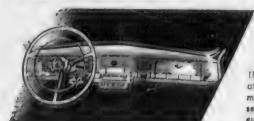

See this new, more beautiful Dodge today at your local Dodge-DeSoto dealer's showroom. Compare it feature by feature . . . then drive it and you'll agree that it is indeed "the finest DODGE in 35 years".

The long 123½ inch wheelbase makes the difference when it comes to smooth riding. The extra inches of wheelbase allows passengers to be cradled even further forward of the rear axle for a more restful ride, with plenty of head, leg and elbow room both front and rear.

Dodge Fluid Drive lets you drive, relaxed, in high gear most of the time . . . gives you restful freedom from jolts or jags. Slow moving traffic, icy slippery pavements, muddy stretches of road, all can usually be taken in high without touching the clutch.

The luxurious new interior is beautifully finished and attractively trimmed, set off by a sparkling new instrument panel. Wider, chair-high seats let you relax. Front seats of the new Custom Dodge have foam rubber cushions for extra comfort, at no extra cost.

THE SYLVANNA design is a Colonial bungalow of exceptional merit and interest. It combines the long, low lines of the scaled ranch type into a thoroughly practical, economical plan. Frontage of the house is 40 feet and overall breadth including the garage and breezeway is 64 feet. The depth is 26' 8". Recommended lot width is 75 feet or more. If possible, garage should come on the north side. This permits a flood of morning sun into the dietetic bay. The kitchen is a dream of beauty and convenience with a total of 20 feet of counter working space. The attic has a large dormer in the back which permits two large bedrooms and bath for future expansion. Recommended exterior materials are reclaimed brick and cedar shake roof.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, Saturday March 12, 1949 30
REAL ESTATE

Office Space Here In Short Supply

Big Fire Causes Even More Acute Situation

By Barbara Abbott
Little can this city of ours afford to lose—even temporarily—the amount of office space located in the fire-damaged Northern Hardware Building on 104 street.

For years real estate agents have had to contend with the insatiable demand for commercial premises. That demand has quite obviously increased with continued expansion.

Development of her natural resources has given us such opportunities as those afforded at present in real estate. From the West coast, Eastern Canada, and especially the United States, daily requests for office space are pouring into the real estate offices.

Many deals are closed, but the amount of unfurnished business is reaching a new high.

Wholesale and retail firms want to establish plants nearer to the city-center instead of incurring heavy freight rates in shipping equipment from industrial Canada and the U.S.A.

Majority want vacant lots, but the demand for improved lots is nevertheless steady.

ERRATIC MARKET
Many real estate dealers in the city corner the commercial building outlook extremely problematical. They say that the high cost of materials and the general uncertainty of obtaining those materials is responsible for an erratic market.

And while outside industrial firms are anxious to get in on the boom, business concerns here are all set to expand.

Right now one prominent wholesale company is embarking on a $50,000 project. Their present premises in downtown Edmonton are being sold for $10,000.

Indications are that it won't be long before the deal is cinched.

Apprehension of a major recession in real estate prices within the next five years hasn't reached Edmonton.

One prominent agent in the city deplores the present level. He says that the price of a lot placed on city lots, he said, and private properties are being sold for far less than the size and population of the city warrants.

Lower priced houses may be scheduled for other areas, but it is extremely doubtful whether Edmonton will see any reduction in cost for a long time.

Average price of an average house buyers around the $25,000 mark.

Boy Chained to Bed Is Taken From Father

VANCOUVER, March 12.—(CP)—Probation officers today sought a foster home for an 11-year-old boy who had been chained to a bed almost every night for six months.

"It was to discipline him," the father told juvenile court Judge Mackenzie Matheson. "He kept bad company." The father had fastened his son to the bed with leg irons.

"Don't let me ever hear you are putting leg irons on any boy in this city," Judge Matheson warned the father.

Probation told the court the father, a central European, had tried to "apply standards which are common practice in his own country."

"They said the boy was bad, but had stayed out nights because he considered himself an 'outcast' in his own home.

The judge ordered he be placed in a foster home.

CALM ACT GETS THIEVES

HAMILTON, Ont., March 12.—(BUT)—While four masked gunmen ransacked her father's office, 27-year-old Barbara Goodale calmly sat with pencil and pad and wrote down a detailed description of the thugs.

Four hours later, police arrested the quartet and charged them with robbery with violence.

"We only had the girl's description to go by," the police said.

Orders on Aliens Tabled in House

Diefenbaker Wins Point On Immigration Rulings

OTTAWA, March 12.—(CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent yesterday tabled in the commons a batch of orders-in-council authorizing aliens to enter Canada or to remain here after entering without permit.

It was a further chapter in his controversy with John Diefenbaker (PC, Lake Centre), who has been pressing the government for publication of significant orders-in-council.

LENGTHY STATEMENT

The prime minister, in a lengthy statement, again assured the house there was no desire to keep immigration orders secret and that the procedure followed in these instances was in keeping with precedent.

Following the prime minister's statement Mr. Diefenbaker was allowed to make a brief statement in which he said the tabling of these orders was "a victory for the restoration of the rights of parliament."

None of these orders had previously been tabled in the house and only a small number had been published in the Canada Gazette.

Mr. Diefenbaker protested that therefore the only way a member could get access to an order was to ascertain the number of it and move in the house for its tabling. To that extent at least, he said, they were secret.

The return showed that in 1947 the government passed 24 orders authorizing persons to enter Canada and 26 authorizing persons already here to remain.

In 1948 there were 22 orders authorizing entry and 26 authorizing persons already here to remain.

The prime minister explained that the immigration act lays down provisions relating specifically to certain types of classes which may not be admitted. It does not say specifically the persons or classes who are admissible.

The act permits a flexibility by which the government may deal by order-in-council with certain individual cases of classes.

The return showed that in 1947 the government passed 24 orders authorizing persons to enter Canada and 26 authorizing persons already here to remain.

In 1948 there were 22 orders authorizing entry and 26 authorizing persons already here to remain.

CPR Taxation Case Is Closed

WINNIPEG, March 12.—(CP)—Chief Justice K. K. Williams of the Manitoba Court of King's Bench yesterday reserved decision on the tax dispute between the city of Winnipeg and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

The reserved judgment capped five days of legal argument over the railway's attempt to prevent the city from assessing its property.

The CPR asked that its property be ruled forever tax free under the terms of a by-law passed by the city in 1931 and validated by an act of the legislature in 1932.

In return for certain stipulations, the by-law purported to exempt the railway property forever from taxes, assessments or levies.

The city contended the CPR did not have the right under its constitution to enter into such an agreement. The CPR argued that the company was incorporated under the great seal of Canada and had the powers of a common law company.
